We are the Royal British Legion

Everything you need to know about us

What we're here for

The Royal British Legion is at the heart of a national network that supports our Armed Forces community through thick and thin – ensuring their unique contribution is never forgotten.

Our community

As the country's largest Armed Forces charity, we couldn't be prouder of our national network of over 210,000 members and over 50,000 volunteers. Without their passion and dedication, our work would not be possible.

We also work with many partners and other charities to direct support wherever and whenever it's needed, so we can help everyone who approaches us.

Supporting the Armed Forces community

We support serving and ex-serving personnel of the Royal Navy, Royal Marines, British Army, Royal Air Force, Reservists and their families. Our support starts after one day of service and continues long after life in the Armed Forces.

We help veterans young and old transition into civilian life, helping with physical and mental wellbeing, financial and employment support, care and independent living, local community connections and expert guidance.

From sports-based rehabilitation courses, to tailored personal support for our most vulnerable veterans – we're by their side, every step of the way. We also support older veterans with nursing services and through our six dedicated care homes, run just for the Armed Forces community.

Speaking up on their behalf

We give the Armed Forces community a voice by championing their interests and campaigning on key issues. We often call on members of the public to add their voice to help us make a real impact. And as part of a national network we work with other charities and organisations to amplify our voice.

We've been here since 1921.
And we'll be here as long as you need us.

Leading the nation in Remembrance

The Royal British Legion is the national champion of Remembrance, safeguarding the memory of those who have fought and died in conflicts past and present, as well as the unique contribution made by all those who've served.

Every year our Poppy Appeal raises vital funds to support our work.

Get involved

There are many ways you can be involved with the Royal British Legion:

Membership

Our members are our lifeblood; they help provide support to those who need it and have a say in the way we run RBL by voting through the branch network. If you believe in helping the Service community then we'd love for you to join us.

Volunteering

As a national charity we rely on the support of volunteers 365 days a year. We need people from all backgrounds who can offer practical support, time or assistance. Go on, lend us a hand and help out.

Fundraising

We rely on our brilliant supporters to enable us to continue our lifechanging work. From the Poppy Appeal and other fundraising activities including challenge events, local community events and fairs, your contribution can make a big difference.
